Weekly closure of bike path near U.S. 101 at San Antonio Rd. due to construction work

(Bicyclists will have access to bike path on weekends)

MARIN COUNTY—Caltrans has scheduled weekly closures of the bike path near San Antonio Road, which runs under U.S. 101 between Petaluma and Novato to allow crews to install scour protection along the bridge.

To ensure the safety of workers and bicyclists, weekly closures of the San Antonio Rd. bike path will be from the hours of 6 AM-5 PM on Monday-Friday.

For bicyclists heading southbound towards Novato, the alternative route is to access Petaluma Blvd to D Street to San Antonio Rd. where bicyclists can access the path at Olompali State Park, while those heading northbound towards Petaluma will need to go westbound on San Antonio Rd, then take D Street to Petaluma Blvd.

Bicyclists will be able to access the San Antonio Rd. bike path on Saturday and Sunday.

The project is expected to be completed by the beginning of September.
